SUNDAY NEWS WASHINGTON. THE MOIETY FRAUD SYSTEM IN

NEW YORK UNDER IN-

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The Committee on Ways and Means will probably be occupied throughout the week in hearing the statements relating to the custom laws. B. J. Jayne, who, at the commencement of the examination, who was called as a governmerchants or their representives now here relative to the points mentioned by him, the questions to be propounded through the committee. Jayne has been in constant attendence at the committee room, paying strict attention to ererything that has been said. The statements before the committee are not made under oath, there being nothing in the propagities of a judicial character, the committee average as the statements before the committee are not made under oath, there being nothing in the propagities of a judicial character, the committee are report a very restless night. Bailey was an earnest worker for Gen. Butler in both of his canvastes for the Gubernatorial chair.

FILLMORE CRITICAL.

BUFFALO, March 8—Ex-Pre-ident Fillmore spent a very restless night. He was aclings of a judicial character, the commitce lings of a judicial character, the committee merely desiring to obtain the views of those best acquainted with the administration of the laws and their practical operation in order to assist them in such legislation as will serve to remove oppressions and abuses of which complaints are so earnestly made. Never before now have the members of the Committee on Ways and Means the members of the Committee on Ways and Means the members of the Committee on Ways and Means the members of the Committee on Ways and Means the members of the Committee on Ways and Means the members of the Committee on Ways and Means the members of the Committee on Ways and Means the members of the Committee on Ways and Means the members of the Committee on Ways and Means the members of the Committee on Ways and Means the members of the Committee on Ways and the committee is no perc public improvement. At 9 o'clock this morning there was a cold, conget there is no perc public improvement. At 9 o'clock this morning there was a cold, conget there is no perc public improvement. At 9 o'clock this morning there was a cold, conget the committee is no perc public improvement. been more interested, and this interest seems to increase with the accumulation of statements. Not only do the members listen with the closest attention, but they ask many questions so as to fully understand all the particulars of the points presented. Full notes are taken and written out from day to day by the official stenographer in order that they may be referred to hereafter by the Committee. There is no question but that the statements made thus far, including that of Mr. Shultz yesterday, have convinced the Committee of the serious losses and other than the statements may be the serious losses and other than the serious losses are serious losses and other than the serious losses are serious losses and other than the serious losses and other than the serious losses are serious losses and other than the serious losses and other than the serious losses are serious losses and other than the serious losses are serious losses and other than the serious losses are serious losses and other than the serious losses are serious losses and other than the serious losses are serious losses wrongs to which merchants have unneces-arily been subjected by government officers who exceed their lawful authority in the seizure of books and papers thereof. It can reasonably be expected that if the committee shall not report a bill to repeal that proviion of law they will suggest such amendment that will render it less injurious to the current business of the merchant who may have fallen under the suspicion of the Treasury agents and their detectives, and all other informers and spies.

known what remedy the aggrieved merchant had in such cases, and it was said that on occasions, by several of the members, in which all no doubt concurred, that there ought to all no doubt concurred, that there ought to besome protection to the merchant against the infraction of law by authorized agents of the Treasury Department. Judging by the general drift of the questions asked by members of the committee, they are not prepared to assent to the arguments advanced by several lawyers before them, viz: that as manner can be committee, they are not prepared to assent to the arguments advanced by several lawyers before them, viz: that as FATAL DRINKING BET-STRIKE—

Mollasses and Syrups—New Orleans 75a. no man can be compelled to testify against himself in a cruminal proceeding, so no man's private books and papers can be used against him as evidence for a violation of the custom laws, one in principle being paramount to the other.

to the other.

The moiety system in connection with the sizure of books and papers will probably tagage the greater part of the attention of the committee, although the other subjects presented by the New York Chamber of Commerce and Boards of Trade of other titles, will receive a due share of attention. The committee, after having obtained the desired information on the question preented, will earnestly endeavor to frame such a bill as will afford relief to the merchants, but at the same time guarding the terest of the Government. The merchants and their representatives now here expression confidence in the committees' intelliteace and fairness, and their gratifica-ion that the aggrieved parties have an apportunity to state their case and to unish, if desired, properly attested proofs of the correctness of their assertion. Noth-age can as yet be said concerning a revision the tariff, so as to change as far as pracicable the ad valorem for specific ducies. This subject has only been partially discussed More the committee. The main object of he merchants seems to be relief from the acieties system and the indiscriminate seizweekers system and the indiscriminate seiz-it of books and papers. There is no doubt in the mind of any that the appearance of the merchants here at this time will have the effect of securing some alteration of the law that will afford at least partial re-lief. Explanations or statements will this week be made by the gentlemen aggregated id. Explanations or statements where the best being the proceedings geneis the salt cases, and the proceedings gene-tally before the Committee on Ways and Means are expected to be interesting.

Fraining Girls for Temperance Agents.

Mrs. Dr. Martin, a gentlewoman of Brocklyn, and one of the leading temperance advocates in that city, has evolved a new wrinkle for the furtherance of the Ohio movement. She proposes to find six goodlooking young ladies (three of them she has already picked out) and train them for the work. She contends that she will have,
when she gets the girls trained, a force at command that can eccomplish more than any excise law ever passed. So far, her plan seems delightfully plausible. But when she advances with the argument that "Samson fell at the hands of one handsome woman," and so on, she betrays one of her weak spots. We fear that Mrs. Dr. Martin would not find the Gazilish style of girl exactly

THE PROOF : ATLANTA, GA., November 18, 1873.

P. Van Alstins, Esq., Barnesville, Ga.;

DEAR STR.—You must excess me for this emburst of praise for your invaluable medicine, and thanks to you for placing it within my reach. Let me tell you about it: To-night, after supper, I was stacked with a very scute pain is my right side. I had felt it coming on for several days, but it did not reach a focus until to-night, and or all intense pains, it was the worst I ever had. Having tried your Balsam before for different aliments and found it equal to any emergency, I went down suffering m set excruciating pain as I went along and paid my last quarter for a mail bottle of Jackson's Magic Balsam. Is was with the greatest difficulty I reached home. The medicine was applied to the hursting place, and in a few minutes after the application, I took my pendil, and while I scribble these lines to you the pain has disappeared, leaving me as happy as the usual sun flower, and another dose of the Magic Truck in the bottle ready for any pain that might arise. I only with you as much good luck as your Balsam is efficient, and that is a great deal.
